

HOW TO USE NUMBERS TO MAKE YOUR RESUME STAND OUT

GRAB ATTENTION. ADD CREDIBILITY. SET YOURSELF APART

AUTHOR | RATE MY RESUME

WHY ADD NUMBERS TO YOUR RESUME?

Grab Attention: Numbers make your resume pop in a sea of text.

Add Credibility: Metrics make your results believable and impressive.

Set Yourself Apart: Employers compare measurable results, giving you an edge.

Your resume is your first impression. Using measurable achievements with numbers can make it unforgettable.

Learn how to:

Catch recruiters' attention

Prove your credibility

Stand out from the competition

Keep scrolling for actionable tips!

STEPS TO HIGHLIGHT YOUR ACHIEVEMENTS WITH NUMBERS

1 Track Your Successes: Document wins like "Improved sales by 20%."

2 Use Ranges: No specifics? Use ranges like "Increased efficiency by 10-15%."

3 Focus on Key Metrics:

Revenue: Showcase gains or savings.

People: Highlight teams or clients served.

Time: Specify deadlines met or saved.

4 Be Honest: Accurate data builds trust and credibility.

FOR EXAMPLE:

Leadership: "Led a team of 10 to achieve a 25% increase in efficiency."

Marketing: "Boosted click-through rates by 50%."

Operations: "Saved $30K annually by streamlining processes."

Quantifying achievements is just the start! Elevate your resume with our AI-powered tool

Follow us for updates, tips,
and inspiration:

Rate My Resume

ratemyresumelai

Rate My Resume